QUALIFICATION DESCRIPTION

This qualification reflects the role of workers in the community and/or residential setting who follow an individualized plan to provide person-centered support to people who may require support due to ageing, disability or some other reason. Work involves using discretion and judgement in relation to individual support as well as taking responsibility for own outputs. Workers have a range of factual, technical and procedural knowledge, as well as some theoretical knowledge of the concepts and practices required to provide person-centered support.

AEC TARGET CLIENTS

The target group for this course are international students who are new entrants into the care industry and are interested in pursuing positions as:

- Aged care workers
- Aged Care Support Workers

CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support (Ageing Stream) is an entry-level qualification. It is expected that these new entrants are most likely to have none to minimal experience in the field of individual support in public facilities, community services or individual care. They are required to undertake this training on a full-time basis (20 hours per week plus additional hours for the self-study component of the course).
